

Analyzing your Data

The Advanced Reporting Module lets you analyze data using tabular views against predefined data sets. The available data sets can be accessed and manipulated via the Ad Hoc View Editor. Reports can be built using defined views. Finally, Dashboards display several reports in a single, integrated view.

Note: Not all companies have all of the items described in the Online Help.*

Please note, the ARCOS online documentation is a living document that is always under review. If you see information that is inconsistent with the behavior in the application, or you do not see a page covering an ARCOS feature you would like to know more about, please contact the ARCOS Support Center.*
